Here is a big, sturdy, long-wearing new tire built to satisfy the buyer on every point of mileage, quality and price.

It is designed especially for the man who wants the essential advantages of cord tire performance at the lowest possible price.

It is designed to offer the buyer a quality product at a price even lower than he has formerly paid for a "long discount" tire. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and its selling price is substantially less.

This new tire is the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord it is liberally oversize in all straight-side sizes, the 4 1/2-inch tire, for example, actually measuring nearly 5 inches.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, its foundation is genuine high-grade long-staple cotton.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it embodies the efficient group-ply construction, a Goodyear patent.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it is the product of an experienced company which has a world-wide reputation to safeguard.

Look at the prices of the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, listed below.

Compare these prices with net prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why take a chance on such tires?—you know it doesn't pay.

NATURE TELLS YOU

AS MANY A LOUISA READER KNOWS TOO WELL.

When the kidneys are weak, Nature tells you about it.

The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage. Other disorders suggest kidney illness. Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys.

Louisa people testify to their worth. Ask your neighbor.

M. Ferguson, plumber and painter, Louisa, says: "My kidneys got in bad shape and I suffered much pain when passing the kidney secretions. There was sediment in the secretions. My back had a dull pain in it and it was about all I could do of a morning to dress myself. I was so lame across my back. I have done hard work in my time and followed the painting trade. I blame fumes of turpentine for the starting of my trouble. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, so I went to the Louisa Drug Store Co., and got three boxes. I used them until my troubles left."

Six Cylinders—50 Horsepower—$995

The Jewett is a sturdy, powerful, six-cylinder motor car. Ready for the road the touring model weighs over 2800 pounds.

This means that to measure the new standard of value it has set in American motordom you must compare it with cars costing from $200 to $500 more.

It has the strength essential to sturdiness in its frame, motor, clutch, transmission, drive shaft and in its special Timken axles.

The great power plant is built complete in the Paige shops. It has been proved by years of use in Paige 6-44 models.

Now with the addition of high pressure oiling giving 20 pounds pressure at 20 miles per hour, it is finer and better than ever.

Such is the Six that is now yours at the new reduced price, $995 f. o. b., factory.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress—W. J. Fields.

The Republicans of Nebraska have nominated a Bull Moose for the U. S. Senate. The "Standpatter" is a slow horse this year.

Congressman John W. Langley wired congratulations to Senator Jim Reed of Missouri for winning the Democratic nomination for the Senate again. Serves him right. Hundreds of other Republicans are doing the same thing. Reed was nominated by Republicans crossing over and voting for him, especially in St. Louis and Kansas City, in order to make certain victory for their nominee in November. Also, he received the solid un-American vote.

Riding the general public under cover of the United States government is a popular sport. With passenger fares at 3.55 cents per mile and freight rates far above any pre-war figure, with thousands of cars and locomotives junked to get a good price for them from the government; with wages high and working rules higher; with a strike, and sympathetic efforts on the part of other men, still drawing their salaries, to break down the operation of trains, the situation in the United States is rapidly approaching the worst ever experienced. The people in general, comprising 90 per cent or more of the total population, are doing the suffering and the paying.

The Literary Digest is making an elaborate poll of the voters of the United States on the questions of prohibition, light wines and beer, and wide open "wet." In the first half million votes 187,704 for strict enforcement of the present laws, 196,864 want light wines and beer, but not other liquors, and 101,475 are "wet as a dog."

The poll also covers the soldier bonus question—233,613 for it and 241,440 against.

The "light wines" have 15 per cent alcohol, enough to make anybody drunk, and the beer would be strong enough to befuddle all who indulge in it liberally. It is not likely that anyone living now will ever see prohibition laws repealed, but the dry people must be on the job all the time to meet the aggressiveness of the wets.

Things are happening in rapid succession these days that should do more for the "back to the farm" movement than all the preaching and screeching that ever has been done on the subject. The way to keep the younger folks on the farm is to make the farm a more livable place. Good roads, automobiles, the radio, the talking machine, gasoline power, electric light plants at low cost, screens for homes, convenient and helpful equipment for the kitchen and household generally, so as to relieve the women of unnecessary drudgery; and the adoption of all things that make homes more attractive.

Think of what the latest of these great inventions will do! The radio-telephone (wireless telephone) which brings into country homes every day and night the market reports, great band concerts, speeches by prominent men, sermons by the most famous preachers. Receiving outfits can be installed in the home at small cost, all the way from $25 to ten times that amount. What could add more to the pleasure and enlightenment of a farmer's family than to gather in the long winter evenings in their homes and without any cost whatever, listen to the greatest artists and speakers as their best productions are broadcasted upon the air? Nothing more wonderful, practical or beneficial has been discovered or invented than the radio-telephone. Its possibilities can scarcely be imagined.

Mr. Ayres Accepts Invitation to Our Home Coming

Fairville, Ind., Aug. 7.

Big Sandy News, Louisa, Kentucky. Gentlemen:—It is proper and right that we should manifest an interest in the renewal of acquaintance with our neighbors and friends as often as it is possible to do so. The County Centennial and Home Coming Week which your good people are arranging will be a pronounced indication of the abounding hospitality of the citizenship of Louisa and surrounding community.

The yearning for the scenes and environments which are associated with one's youth, or at least where happy years were spent usually in early life, is a peculiarity of the human family only to be explained by the certainty with which they are effected by their environment. Home is something more to child and man than the house in which they live. It includes that part of the world outside with which he or she is most familiar. And this inclination is much stronger if he lives in the country or town too small to keep him within its borders. The boy who roams the fields and woods which surrounds his home, who knows all about the streams and forests nearby, and who climbs the hills and mountains near his native hearth, is the one in whose memory is stamped the clearest picture of the scenes of his childhood. The city changes from year to year and the child that is reared and lives in a tenement in a large city, seldom has a desire to return to the scenes of his childhood or cherish the memory of its charms. He does not recall his surroundings as vividly as the boy who looks out on the blue, unchanging hills and mountains, or the vast stretch of the Western prairies. A dweller among the hills and mountains never in later years entirely reconciles himself to a level and prairie country. He admits that the flat fields of grass and grain have their attraction, but always his heart turns to the hills and mountains.

It is something inborn that creates this love for place. It is a bond that binds a man to the spot where he was born. He may break away, but in memory, at least, he goes back with a tender thought for what to another may be an uninviting place, but to him it has the power to draw him from the ends of the earth, though all dear ones who shared the old homestead are passed away.

Receiving your wonderful program recalls to my mind many friends in your county, and although I am not a native I feel at home when in your midst. Both my grandfathers were born in your splendid state near Mayaville and migrated to Indiana in the early thirties. Therefore, I feel as one of you and will endeavor to be present during your celebration.

ARTHUR E. AYRES.

Junior Agriculture Club

Camp For Lawrence and Boyd Counties

Preparations are being made by the County Agent of Boyd and Lawrence counties for a huge Junior Agriculture Camp to be held the week of August 21. The site for this big outdoor event is at Eloise about 1 1/2 miles above Louisa.

The camp, which is to be attended exclusively by boys and girls who are club members, or who will enroll at once and become club members for next year, is expected to be the largest and most successful ever held in this section of the state and will be of great benefit to those who attend.

Every boy and girl in Lawrence county who is a member of the Junior Agriculture Club is expected to attend. Others who are not members of the club may become eligible by forwarding their application to their County Agent at once notify him that you are planning to attend the camp, then join the club when you arrive.

It is the aim of the Agriculture Extension Department through their County Agents to have the youths from the farm derive as much benefit from these summer camps as is possible, consequently it is their purpose to see that every boy and girl in the county where the camps are held, who wish to attend, may be able to do so.

Those who attend the camp are required to contribute one dollar as expense money to pay for rented tents, cooks, straw, etc. Other than this no fee will be charged and all camp activities will be absolutely free. Of course each camper will bring along their own equipment which will consist of a four bag full of food, a list of which has been sent to each club member, as well as many other things needed on a big outing like this.

Last year our camp was held in Boyd county and was a decided success. The reputation which it established will help to make it a much greater success this year. Eloise is a splendid location for the camp and is easily accessible.

For the work of the camp, which will be both educational and recreational, will be conducted by men and women from the State Experiment Station at Lexington. They will have full charge of the work and will have a program already planned.

The club members will be divided into four groups, each group will be named after an Indian tribe. Contests and events of all sorts will be held between the various groups. Points will be awarded according to the various duties performed. Special honor will be accorded the ten best campers and special medals will be awarded to the three best campers, to be judged by the teachers.

Parents who have not given their consent to their children to attend are urged to do so, and they are also urged and cordially invited to attend the camp after it gets under headway and see just what is trying to be done for their boys and girls, after which they will gladly co-operate more closely and become more interested in the welfare of their boys and girls.

Wednesday, August 23, is especially designated as visitors day and it is hoped many parents as well as other adults, teachers and schools will visit the camp on that day. Thursday night will be stent night and all are cordially invited to attend on that night and see what our boys and girls from the farm can do on short notice in the way of home talent stunts and wholesome fun.

An Informal Glimpse of The New Fall Wearables

—Dresses, Coats and Suits for the first cool days

This informal display will be of interest to the late vacationist and to those who wish a full season of service from their new apparel. Even though these models are presented considerably in advance of Autumn, they are authentic in modeling, and will retain their full degree of smartness even after the new season has thoroughly developed. The various modish in this collection, while not numerous, give convincing evidence that the fashions for Fall and Winter will be fully as smart and wearable as ever before.

Dresses for Street and Afternoon

Lizard-skin is one of the most attractive of the newer fabrics, resembling its name-sake in its glossy sheen and shimmering texture. Crepe Satins and fine Cantone vie with the heavier crepes for early season favor, and many unusual effects are shown in both types. The straight-line mode of seasons past is rapidly giving way to draped effects. The low waist-line, however, has lost none of its prominence, while the longer skirt lengths with even or irregular hem lines are assured. As usual in the wearables for Fall, somber shades are favored and this select group of frocks shows a decided preference for black, navy, brown and various shades of grey and tan. Little, if any, trimmings are used—the models depending on their smart drapes and panels for decoration.

The Coats

PILE FABRICS have proven so popular that little else is shown in the new coat models. Velvet and Vapeur Fashions are the two outstanding favorites in this class and are delightfully different in weave, lustre and finish.

Lines are especially graceful and adaptable to the slender figure as well as the figure of ample proportions.

Dark colors are favored and blend well with the season's popular furs—beaver, squirrel, fox and caracul—this latter fur gracing the throat of wraps as well as the utility coat.

—and the Suits

MEN'S WEAR SUITINGS rival the conventional Tricotine and Poret in popularity, while clever stripes and iridescent patterns in worsteds and silk cashmere are favored for the severely tailored styles.

Three-quarter length pockets in both the fitted and loose-back models are entirely new features and serve as an added note of embellishment together with braid-bound edges, plaits and straps of self-fabric.

Skirts are plain and somewhat longer than those worn the past few seasons. The predominating colors are navy, brown, oxford grey and black.

City Council Holds Regular August Meeting

The City Council met Tuesday night with Mayor L. F. Wellman presiding. Present were councilmen H. W. Creel, Charter Wellman, Clude Wilson, Lefe Cooksey and R. C. Burton, City Attorney A. J. Garred, Clerk J. G. Burns and the three marshals, Cyrus Johns and Thompson. Also a few innocent bystanders.

Engineer L. E. Wallace reported a long list of people who have tapped the sanitary sewer without paying for it. The council ordered the officers to collect from all.

The Ohio Fuel Oil Company and Wm. Bartram were ordered to disconnect their sewers from the storm sewer.

A contract with Kentucky Normal College was presented, providing right of way for a new sanitary sewer to serve the property to the west. Free use of the sewer is given for all buildings on the K. N. C. land. Engineer Wallace is to have charge of putting in this sewer.

The committee to examine street sprinkling plugs reported 43 in good condition, to be paid for at rate of $25 each per year.

Street lights were ordered installed at Walter Clayton's and T. B. Edgups.

Sidewalks ordered on upper Lock avenue some time ago are to be built by city at property owners' expense.

W. R. Bartram and J. H. Woods are to build a six-foot sidewalk one foot from their property line on Lady Washington street. Also, R. C. Burton will build a walk alongside his residence lot. A number of sidewalks were ordered in Italy and adjacent streets.

Milt McKrell was low bidder at 27 1/2 cents per square foot on 10 or 12 concrete street crossings.

The City Attorney called attention to the law that any job of work amounting to $100 or more should be let to contract. This came up in connection with bills for about $600 for street work, mostly in Italy.

Councilman Creel suggested that Mont Thompson be relieved of his duty as assistant marshal and be employed only to clean streets. Also, that Marshal Cyrus take charge of street improvement jobs. Cyrus objected to doing away with Thompson's authority, saying "It is nice to have him along to help in making arrests and also as a witness." Police Judge Hale said "two marshals can not take care of Louisa." After some argument and a little display of feeling the matter was dropped without action.

C. L. Miller as director of the Home Channing enterprise, asked for special service to be done in street cleaning during the week, suggesting that the work in the main part of town be done every night. He requested authority to close Main Cross street from Main to Madison to automobile traffic during the week. Also, control of parking districts. He asked that returns from concessions to amusements and stands be turned into the expense fund if needed. All of these things were granted.

The council adjourned to the 25th, when special policemen for Home Coming Week will be appointed.

WAYNE PROVES EASY VICTIM FOR LOUISA

Only One Run and Three Fluke Hits Secured Off McGuire.

The Louisa ball team had a merry-go-round Sunday when they defeated Wayne by a score of 11 to 1 on the local grounds. Ten hits and ten runs were secured off Adkins and one run off Ferguson. Wayne's only tally was made in the first inning by an error and poor throwing.

Wilson's single in the second with two on scored Louisa's first two runs. After Cain singled in the third, Frazier tripped and scored on Tavenner's sacrifice fly to center.

Hits by Brown, Lovely, Frazier and Roberts, and two errors gave Louisa three runs in the fourth. A base on balls and hits by McGuire and Cain and an error by Burgess added three more runs in the fifth.

Charley Ferguson went in to pitch for Wayne in the sixth inning and struck out the first three men. An error gave Louisa its eleventh run in the seventh.

Geo. McGuire pitched "big league" ball for Louisa. Four "floods" there, one was forced at second, one out via Frazier's arm to second, and one circled the bases for a tally.

Only three hits were secured off McGuire and these were "flukes" of the worst kind. He should have had a no-hit game.

YATESVILLE

Work on the road is progressing nicely, but there is still a lot of work to be done. The road is already in use by the traveling public from here to Louisa and to travel over the present new route causes the place to look altogether different from the way the country used to look.

The late refreshing showers are great on our corn crops which never looked better at this time of the year. All the teachers of our section are giving satisfaction in their schools so far as we have heard.

The apple crop is excellent as is also the plum crop, but the peach crop is rather tight.

The oil business in the Yatesville oil fields is about on a stand still at this time. But Charley Adkins and Millard Crank each has a job in the Blaine oil field where they are at work at the present.

Robert Elkins is our telephone line-man and is finding lots of work to do on the lines, they having run down considerably. The grading of the new road has been hard on all the lines that it followed. Of course the damage to the lines couldn't be evaded and everybody wants the road as much so as they want the telephone system.

Bascom Thacker is mining coal on Cuts Fork for Bascom Shortridge, who is furnishing coal for the steam shovels.

Ernest Bentley has leased the Fred Chaffin mine and will furnish coal for the local trade the coming fall and winter.

Everybody around Yatesville is looking forward with bright anticipation to the Home Coming Week and to the one hundredth anniversary of our county seat. We are all anxious to see the old citizens that used to be in Louisa, the latter part of the last century—back in the seventies. Taylor McClure conducted the teachers institutes and Leo Frank was our jeweler and always furnished the teachers with watches. We are expecting to see many of the old timers, but many of them, of course, we will never see again here, they having gone from whence none hath ever yet been known to return.

The Road To Long Ago.

By James J. Montague

Often, when I hear the stories that a Little Fellow tells, Of a land of summer sunshine, smug brooks and quiet dells, Where there's neither work nor worry, and one listens all day long To the crooning of the crickets and the robins' nesting song, I'm reminded as he chatters, with his eager eyes aglow, That this land was my own country, in this time called long ago.

From the hilltop which he fancies that his feet were first to tread I have heard the mother robin call her children home to bed; I remember how the crickets stilled their song when I drew near, So I never could discover if they sang by note or ear. Sometimes I heard fairy voices in the rustling maple tree, But however hard I hunted, not a fairy could I see.

There were hears in my own country, so it wasn't safe to roam When the woods were filled with shadows, very far away from home Quite a wicked little goblin lurked beside the river's brim. And the better part of valor was to keep away from him. Still the sun seemed always shining through the long and pleasant day, And I wonder rather often why I ever came away.

I would like to journey back there from this world of cares and men, And to wander through the woodland and beside the brook again; I would like to hunt those fairies, for the frost is on my brow, Menning years and happy wisdom, and I'd surely find one now. Countless times I've dreamed about it, but I've come to learn at last That all travel is forbidden on the pathway to the past!

Broadmindedness in regard to religious matters is a mighty fine thing. There is nothing as narrow and bigoted as the man who says another man is not as good as himself just because he has a difference of opinion in regard to religion.

But it seems that increasing broadmindedness has come to mean a laxity in regard to religious matters which is really quite appalling. Our educational curriculum has been completely stripped of any hint of religious observances. People will say this because of differences of belief, but there are certain things which are common to every religion and which could easily be included in the daily regime of the school. At the present rate children will soon be in total ignorance of the history of the Ten Commandments. And they will undoubtedly tell you that the sermon on the Mount was preached by Billy Sunday.

Another phase of this laxness in religious matters is seen in the increasing number of people who boldly proclaim that they "do not believe in anything." Perhaps we should not say "boldly" for it does not take any great amount of courage to make this statement now. Ten years ago perhaps, but now the speaker is gladly joined by a bunch of kindred spirits who congratulate him on his courage to "speak his mind." He begins to think himself an extremely clean fellow. But he is not the least bit original. Bob Ingersoll spoiled his chance for that.

The Bible has stood the test of centuries and those who believe it will not be disturbed by this surface ripple in religious thought.

The world likes a good loser. It looks with favor on the man who smiles when things go wrong and courageously makes a fresh beginning. It's a good quality to cultivate, but don't carry it to the point where you acquire the losing habit.

Many a man's failures are his stepping stones to success. Do not waste too much time regretting the mistakes for it is by mistakes that we learn.

If you cannot have the best, make the best of what you have.

Hard Work is the Secret of Success

London, August 5.—What is the secret of success? Is it long hours and a life of drudgery? "My soul has rebelled against drudgery for the last 50 years," said Lord Waring, "yet there always has been something kept me at it for an average of 15 hours a day."

Can a man attain success without hard work? What is the average number of hours a day put in by the successful man or woman?

Eminent business men and women, artists, actresses and novelists tell of the prodigious labors they pay for their success. The keynote of their comments is that long hours, and drudgery are inseparable from success if they are not always a sure guarantee of it.

Gordon Selfridge said: "My office hours are from 8 a. m. till 7 p. m., but in or out of office I am always at work. Success means untiring alertness, and the wakefulness that sees and seizes every opportunity."

Eric Gamage declared that it is "impossible for the business man to measure his work in hours. He stops work only to eat, and then he talks of business ways and means. Building a business is not like laying bricks. You must be absolutely engrossed in it."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness during the sickness and death of our little grandson, Ekeel Hays Webb. Also, Bro. Hutchison for his consoling words, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Thompson, Jattie, Kentucky.

Punchettes

Rev. M. A. Matthews, D.D., L.L.D., AUTOCASTER

It may be trite to say that farming is the most necessary and one of the most honorable occupations in the world. The world will always be indebted to the farmer.

THE FARMER'S BOY

Without him it would be impossible to progress in any line. The farmer has not always considered his position in the dignified way he should. In fact, it is only in recent years that he has been made to realize the scientific side of his work. Prior to that time he was really a trespasser on the soil; he was a robber; an ingrate. He scratched the soil; he mutilated it; he robbed it of its producing power. Any farmer who does not give back to the soil a proportionate part of that which he takes from it is an embezzler, not only of God's Providence, but also of Nature's bounty.

The farmer did not have the right attitude toward his own son. He worked him because he was his son. That was unfair and dishonest. He should have considered his son a partner and shareholder in the labors, responsibilities, liabilities, assets and profits of the farm. He should have rendered an account to his son, paid him a just compensation, and given him an honest and equitable share in the profits of the farm.

The farmer has not always made the farm attractive to his son. You can't keep a boy at home if you give him a pine knot fire by which to read when the world offers him electric lights, a library, and a reading lamp. The farmer must bring the pleasures, amusements, books, magazines, and attractive things into his home and upon his own farm if he expects to keep his boy and make a great agriculturist out of him.

The parcel post, the rural mail delivery, the automobile, the paved highway, and other conveniences, are for the purpose of enabling the farmer to bring the attractions of the world into his own little country home, into his own desolated farmhouse, and to his own fireside. If he will seize the opportunity, fill his table with magazines, papers, and good books, bring in the music box, and the wireless radio, and thus make his home attractive, bright, cheerful, magnetic, and fascinating, he will keep his boys and girls around him.

This is the day of the farm if the farmer will only realize it. This is the hour when the farm ought to be the most attractive spot in the country; this is the moment when the farmhouse ought to ring with music, and the barnyard ought to be the convention hall of agricultural and political activity. The farmer should make his son the leader in that convention and teach him how to mould public opinion and direct legislation.

Let the farmer learn how to be generous and kind to his children and to keep them in the atmosphere of agricultural purity, peace and prosperity.

poem by UNCLE JOHN

UNCLE JOHN, AUTOCASTER

This life we live is irksome, no matter where we be; the road is lined with boulders, an' breakers crown the sea. But we mustn't get discouraged an' declare that life's a cheat, for the prospects ain't so cheerin' when a feller gets cold feet.

COLD FEET

The man that proves a winner, is the man that trims his sails, and steers his craft, unerrin' amid the storms or gales,—the hard knocks don't dismay him, which he squares his chin to meet, and his symptoms don't betray him—he never gets cold feet!

There ain't no road to glory, but what's beset with thorns, and it's purty hard to travel, if you're pestered some with corns. So, to make yer failure certain, wear yer pants out on the seat,—it's a sign that allers tells me that a feller's got cold feet.

I like to greet the feller that can laugh at clouds an' cares—that squares himself in trouble, with his fists as well as prayers. . . . One that earns a benediction, that is mighty soft an' sweet. He blessed the world he lived in, and — he never got cold feet!

For your Uncle John.

JEWETT CONQUERS THE ROCKIES

Not finding any hills in town tough enough to bother him, a Colorado Springs owner of a Jewett, the new Paige built 50-horsepower Six, drove to Manitou, six miles from the Springs and ascended Ute Pass.

This grade is the beginning of the climb to Pike's Peak. To make Ute Pass in high gear with a running start of 30 to 40 miles an hour is considered exceptional performance, but the Jewett with two people made a standing start at the bottom, shifting from first to second and from second to high within a distance of 50 feet and went over the top at 20 miles an hour in high gear. This grade runs as high as 14 per cent, besides having a number of sharp turns.

When the Jewett had covered 400 miles the same owner drove this car to Cripple Creek, a distance of 42 miles, rising from an altitude of 6,000 feet to 11,000 feet. Only one shift was made from high to second for a distance of about 1,000 feet.

Cripple Creek abounds in steep and long grades. The longest and steepest is Tenderfoot Hill. This the Jewett, with four people, mounted one-third of the way in high and the rest in second. The Jewett, the owner reported, went as far in high as cars selling for two and three times its price had previously gone in second and he is yet to find any grade that compels to go into low gear. The cooling, he reported, was perfect.

TRAINS HELD BY GAS WELL.

Bristow, Okla., Aug. 4.—A giant gas well here estimated to be making 30,000,000 feet of gas, is holding up all passenger and freight traffic over the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad between here and Kellyville and delaying all traffic between Tulsa and Oklahoma City.

The well is but 150 feet from the railway tracks and has filled the valley for more than a mile around with gas.

Railway officials fear the operation of trains will ignite the gas.

Oil men express the belief that barring eventualities, the well will be under control in time for traffic to be resumed late today. Meanwhile several trains are laid out.

The giant well, which is in wildcat territory, came in Thursday night.

IN THE CHURCH.

In itself church membership amounts to nothing; it depends upon what we do with it. If we take advantage of its opportunities and faithfully meet its obligations, it is one of the greatest things in the world. But if we fail to take advantage of these opportunities and to meet these obligations, our church membership means absolutely nothing. We once knew a young man who matriculated in a first-class college, but never attended a single recitation. He was in college (!), but he got nothing out of it. So one may be in the church and get nothing out of it.—Central Methodist.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY for 1922

AUTOCASTER

If a man should put a pair of handcuffs on himself, lead himself to jail, lock the door an' throw away the key, we'd most likely drag him out of prison an' put him in a padded cell, but we don't do a thing to the bunch that's trying all the time to strip themselves of human rights as well as liberty. Now we are considering censorship of the movies—when we have right with us the only efficient censorship without any law—the censorship of the people. Moral conduct by royal command never has worked out. Let the people have what they want when they want it. Old Dame Nature will batter them into the line of decency. We wouldn't have steam heat today if our aboriginal ancestors hadn't been frozen into moral action.

PIKEVILLE

Pike County Slaying To Die In Electric Chair.

Dave Brown, slayer of Jim Brumfield in Pike county, May 31, 1921, must die in the electric chair at the Eddyville penitentiary August 28. Governor Morrow has signed his death warrant and E. E. Trivette, Assistant Secretary of State who as county Judge of Pike county held his examining trial and signed his commitment, also affixed his signature to the death warrant. Brown shot and killed both Brumfield and Brumfield's little daughter who was in her father's arms.

Grant Ford Laid To Rest At Ford's Branch.

Grant Ford died at Garrett following a brief illness which it is said may have resulted from drinking some poison beverage. The remains were taken through Pikeville enroute to Ford's Branch where the internment took place. The deceased was a brother to R. V. Alvis Ford and was well known in Pikeville.

At Camp Knox.

Several young men from Pikeville and vicinity left for Camp Knox where they will undergo one month of military training. Among those going were Dick Moore, Ancel Ratliff, Orville McCoy, Harry Kendrick, William Younce, Squanto Adkins and Cullen Varney.

Away On Vacation.

Prof. and Mrs. John Shaw and baby daughter left Thursday for a month's vacation through Kentucky. They will visit Greenup, Lexington, Louisville and other points.

At Greenup they will visit Mrs. Shaw's father, Congressman Bennett, whom they have not seen since he underwent a serious operation at the Johns Hopkins hospital some time ago.

On their return to Pikeville Prof. Shaw will probably teach until January when he contemplates going to Columbia University for one semester in order to secure his A. M. degree. Prof. Shaw, while in the overseas service during the World war, was a student at Oxford University one term where he secured eight credits.

New Addition To Plant.

The Pikeville Ice Company has just completed an addition to its plant here and will engage in the manufacture of ice cream just as soon as the machinery can be installed.

In an interview with Mr. Klaser, who represents the oldest and largest house of this kind in America, told us that the machinery purchased by the local concern was of the very latest model, and the highest quality that his concern manufactures, and that the sanitary features, both of the machines and the building would merit respectful attention in the community.

Mrs. Linton Trivette Ill.

Mrs. Linton Trivette has been suffering several days with poisoned feet contracted, it is thought, from poison oak. The infection has been aggravating and a number of physicians have been consulted. Mrs. Trivette is one of Pikeville's most popular ladies and is an active leader in social circles.

Killed At Virgia.

Tuesday Whitte Bartley shot and instantly killed Lewis Stout, at Virgia on the railroad about half a mile before the station. It is said that whiskey played its usual part. Stout was a resident of West Virginia and was unarmed at the time he was shot. It is reported that Bartley was a native of Shelby creek, and at present resides at Virgia.

Two shots were fired into the body of the victim taking effect in the breast and producing instant death. Bartley surrendered to the authorities and was brought to Pikeville Wednesday and placed in jail.

On the same night Jerry Little was shot through the leg while attempting to escape through the window while officers raided his home on Shelby. Two officers went to the home of Little in search of his brother, Brack Little, who escaped from the jail here some time ago while under sentence for violations of the prohibition laws. It appears that the officers had no papers for the arrest of Jerry Little, but when he attempted to escape he was seized by them and during the skirmish which followed was shot. The wounded man recently served a sentence for violating the prohibition laws.

$200,000 Worth Of Bonds Sold.

Motored To Williamson.

Judge W. W. Reynolds motored to Williamson, W. Va., Monday. The route taken was via Evans Branch of Johns creek and the Road Fork of Pond.

Judge Reynolds was accompanied on the trip by his son, Buster and by Carroll Jackson. He found the auto a convenient means of transacting business along the route in spite of the inconvenient road conditions much of the way.

Judge Reynolds relates the following peculiar incident:

While at work on the Pikeville-Williamson road during an electrical storm workmen had loaded 16 shots and two men were arranging for the discharge of same. Suddenly a stroke of lightning saved them the trouble of lighting a match. The two men picked themselves up some several feet away and to their surprise neither was seriously hurt.

During the absence of Dr. R. W. Raynor, who is away on vacation, Dr. W. J. Walters will be in charge of the Trachoma Hospital. Dr. Walters is one of the best physicians of the state and his being called to occupy this important post is a deserving compliment.
